

HARTER'S HENS LEAD STATE IN NUMBER EGGS

R. E. HARTE IS BREEDER OF AUSTRALORP CHICKENS.

New Breed of Chickens Causing Sensation by Large Egg Production—Local Breeder Recognized.

Tackling something new and different as a pet hobby and making a success of it is the accomplishment of R. E. Harter of Canyon, breeder of Black Australorp chickens. Five years ago Mr. Harter purchased his first Australorps and today he has one of the finest flocks of that breed in America.

The Australorp breed of chicken is the newest in the United States. The first to be imported here from Australia was in 1925. A year later Mr. Harter brought the first of these birds to the Panhandle and began to make plans for raising this new breed of chicken which is rapidly becoming popular in poultry circles. The Australorps were the latest breed to be admitted to the American Standard of Perfection for Poultry. They were admitted in 1929.

The general public knows little of the Black Australorp, which is rapidly gaining popularity because of amazing egg production. In size the Australorps compare favorably with the heavy types of chickens more commonly referred to as the meat breeds. It is very similar to the Orpington breed, as it was developed from the Black Orpington of England. It has been bred in Australia and New Zealand for some 30 years. Particular effort has been put forth to increase egg production and at the same time retain the large size of the bird. Australorps are typically big egg producers. Their eggs average 25 to 26 ounces per dozen, which ranks with all other large breeds. The standard weights for Australorps are hens, 6½ lbs., cocks 8½ lbs.

By careful scientific breeding, Mr. Harter has established his own strain of Australorps. This he has done by combining the blood lines of high pedigreed birds (Continued on last page)

New Manager At Local M-System Grocery Store

A complete change was made in the employees of the local M-System store this week. Moon Mullin of Amarillo arrived Monday and will be the future manager succeeding J. Porter Pierce, who had charge of the store for the past several months. Mrs. Mullin accompanied her husband and they will make their home at 2108 Sixth Avenue.

Haskell Lasater of Amarillo succeeds Ervin Nation as checker. Mrs. Lasater is visiting in Lubbock and will join her husband at a later date.

Both men are experienced in the grocery business.

Faculty Members Work on Sabbath, Survey Reveals

Besides teaching college classes, many W. T. faculty members find time to work with the churches and Sunday school classes of Canyon, and in some of the churches most of the Sunday school classes are taught by them.

In the Baptist church, Dr. Hill, Dr. Cook, John S. Humphreys, and Arthur K. Goodman conduct Sunday school classes, and in the Methodist church Miss Angie Debo, Miss Ruth Lowes, Miss Mary Moss Richardson, S. H. Condon, and W. L. Vaughan play similar roles. Dr. Barnett, Dr. Jarrett, C. E. Strain, and Mrs. Travis Shaw hold such positions in the Presbyterian church, while Dr. Pierle, D. A. Shirley, and T. M. Clark are on the teaching staff of the Christian church.

In all, there are sixteen faculty members teaching classes in the various churches. Asked how he liked to teach such classes, one of them said that it wasn't so bad; in fact, he said that it was beneficial to him if it wasn't to those he taught, but it seemed like working seven days a week and just getting paid for six.

SEE NEW COURT HOUSE Many Canyon people were in Amarillo Monday to attend the opening of the new $420,000 court house of Potter county. The court house is one of the most complete in the state of Texas. The old court house and jail will be torn down at once.

Ed Gerald Enters Race for Sheriff and Tax Collector

To the Voters of Randall County:

In making my announcement as a candidate for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Randall County, I am doing so after serious consideration of the responsibilities and duties of the office. I have taken numerous of my friends into my confidence and have been assured of considerable support and encouragement for which I am very thankful. I feel after discussing this with my friends that most of them consider my qualifications ample to fill the office and pledge their support on these grounds. I have very little to offer in the way of self recommendation as I have lived in Randall County for fifteen years and have during this time had the pleasure of meeting most of the people of the county in a social and business way and most of you have had first hand acquaintance with me. If I should be elected to the office I shall spare no effort to see that the duties devolving upon me are performed in fair and business like manner and that the Law is enforced without fear or favor.

I will endeavor to see every voter in the County during the campaign and will appreciate your support and influence.

Lewis Browne, Well Known Author, Will Speak at the College

On the general theme of why the human race needs religion, Dr. Lewis Browne, scholar, author of best selling books and brilliant public speaker, will be here to speak on Friday evening, January 22, at 8 o'clock in the auditorium. His addresses in all parts of America have attracted large audiences largely because he discusses religion and why the human family needs it, evidently a subject with a universal appeal. When here, he will speak on "This Believing World."

This subject is the same as that of the book that brought Dr. Browne his first fame as an author. Hundreds of thousands of copies of this universal book have been sold, and it has been translated into many languages.

Author of Best Sellers His "Stranger Than Fiction," a history of the Jews, has become classical in its field and is said to be the most widely read book on the subject in the English language. There are several other books that are receiving equally as much fame. His latest book, "Since Calvary," is now being highly praised at the hands of the reviewers, and is well up in the list of books that are selling well.

Most of Mr. Browne's lectures touch to some extent, at least, on religion, which accounts, in part, for their popularity. He points out that every age has its beliefs. For religion is as mysterious as any force that has ever operated in the world of men; it is a vital and eternal power. Dr. Browne touches on the present day tendencies of all current religion, including those of Russia and India.

Is Well Traveled Dr. Browne and his wife spent the past spring and summer in Mediterranean lands, which were the basin of civilization two thousand years ago. He has a theory that what happened there will ultimately happen to those portions of the world that received civilization later on. After travelling over a number of oriental countries and countries of Europe, the Brownes spent some time in Amsterdam and the Hague looking up all available material on the life and works of Spinoza, the great philosopher, a biography of whom Dr. Browne is now writing.

Dr. Browne is said to be one of those rare men of literary distinction who are also gifted with eloquence. He likes to speak to audiences, having been educated to be a Rabbi, and has spoken to thousands of audiences in this country as well as abroad.

Mr. Browne has the power to present the profounder concern of life in language at once clear, incisive, and brilliant with epigram. He has engaged in numerous debates on social and ethical, as well as religious questions, and he is famous for his original and interesting views.

Mrs. R. W. Ratcliff and Miss Lillian Atkins spent Sunday in Amarillo visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Atkins.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Moses attended to business in Amarillo Thursday.

Burney Slack Asks For Re-Election of Co. Tax Assessor

Burney Slack, Tax Assessor, announced yesterday his candidacy, for re-election to the office he now holds. He is serving his first term in this office.

Mr. Slack states that he has greatly enjoyed his work in this office. He feels that with his first year's experience as Tax Assessor he is better qualified to serve a second term than he has been in the past. He has devoted his full time to the completion of the work of assessing and in turning over the rolls to the tax collector was complimented upon their completeness and neatness. He states that his record for efficiency in office is his only platform in asking voters to choose him for a second term.

Poll and Auto Taxes Are Not Coming in Fast

Unless there is a decided improvement in payments during the coming week, the number of poll tax payments and automobile licenses for the year will show a decided decrease. Up to yesterday afternoon only 510 had paid their poll taxes. At the same time only 535 automobile licenses had been paid. The total number of property tax receipts paid was 942.

The final date for tax payment is January 30th, and it is expected that there will be a great rush at the tax collector's office next week.

Many who have delinquent taxes are making payments now in order to save all interest and costs which have accrued. It matters not how far back taxes are delinquent, all penalty and interest will be cancelled if payment is made before the first of January. On the first of February all of the interest and penalty will be replaced on all unpaid taxes.

BUFFALOES WIN FOUR IN A ROW THE PAST WEEK

TAKE LEAD IN T. I. A. A. WITH PERFECT SCORE.

Tech Falls Twice Before Buffs, Who Have Won 23 Out of 25 Games Against Matadors.

With two conference games against Sul Ross to their credit, the Buffaloes take their customary lead in the T. I. A. A. The giant crew of Sad Sam Burton played up to expectations Friday and Saturday nights at Alpine, against the last team of Sul Ross winning the first game 51 to 25, and the second game 43 to 31. Coach Burton took ten men on the road trip, all of whom were given a chance in the first conference games, and every one of the long boys showed up well.

Returning to Lubbock Sunday, Tech was taken on for two games Monday and Tuesday nights, both of which were chalked up for the Buffs with scores of 54 to 36, and 52 to 21. The Buffs and Matadors have played 25 games of basketball in the past six years, the Buffs having won 23.

Simmons University of Abilene will be here Monday and Tuesday to meet the Buffaloes in games which are termed to be the toughest the Buffs will have this season on the home floor. Simmons always has a hard team, and this year it is stated the Cowboys are going strong.

Annual Test For Dairy Cows To Be Made Next Month

The annual test of dairy cows for tuberculosis sponsored by the Randall County Dairymen's Association will be conducted sometime next month. Members of the association are listing their cows with a committee at this time for the TB test. This is simply a cooperative arrangement whereby the members are able to secure a lower price for the testing by a State qualified veterinarian.

Cow owners who are not members of the Dairymen's organization who want to secure a low price on TB testing may make arrangements to have their cows tested at the same time. Information about this work may be had at the county agent's office. Fees for testing cows for those who are not members of the Dairymen's association will be announced later.

If you are using milk from untested cows and want to be safe better see the TB committee or the county agent right away. The test is conducted in the section around Canyon once each year only. The committee this year is composed of L. T. Campbell, R. O. Allison and E. Gidden.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Gass of Hereford visited Sunday with her mother, Mrs. J. B. Hensley.

Frank Hicks Is Candidate Sheriff and Tax Collector

Frank Hicks has authorized the announcement of his candidacy for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector.

Mr. Hicks states that he has been a citizen of Randall county for thirty-three years. For the past three years he has been Chief of Police of the city of Canyon, and for the past five years he has been special deputy sheriff under John Fry. He has worked on all of the principal cases in the county during that period of time.

Mr. Hicks states that he is running on his record as a peace officer, and asks the people of the county to investigate his record, both as a citizen and as an officer. He is well acquainted with all of the duties of the office, including the importance of the tax collector's work. In offering his name as a candidate for Sheriff and Tax Collector he asks that the voters give him due consideration, and that he hopes to see each and every voter personally before July 23rd when the Democratic primary will be held.

Government Study by Condon Given at Rotary Tuesday

The Canyon Rotary Club heard a very able discussion of Government Tuesday at the weekly luncheon when Prof. S. H. Condon talked on the various problems of national, state and local governments.

Visitors present Tuesday were O. W. Wright, S. F. Sullenberger, B. E. Masters, M. L. Mudd, P. C. Bennett, all of Amarillo, Geo. G. Gillen of Wichita, Kansas, Ralph Eaton of Amarillo, Fred E. Wortham, S. H. Condon and C. L. Thompson.

The resignation of John Shanklin as a member of the club was read with regrets.

Tom Knighton chairman of the Student Loan Fund committee, had charge of the program, and presented Mr. Condon.

The speaker pointed out that the present time had brought about more serious thinking than any period of the past fifteen years. The slogan of economy is being heard on every hand. He pointed out the fact that a few years ago Detroit was maintaining 32 governmental functions, which had now increased to more than 300. One cause is the shifting of individual responsibility to government.

The present constitution of Texas as was adopted in 1876, after two former constitutions had failed. In the adoption of the present constitution, it was sought to "hog tie" government, and we find ourselves tied today by its provisions, many of which are out of date and has no bearing upon present day conditions. In Austin today there are more than 100 agencies, all working more or less independently. The Governor is held responsible by the voters for these agencies, yet has no control over them. Recent governors have pointed out the need of a new constitution to make needed reforms.

Three years ago Virginia undertook to remodel its government. Of 100 boards then in existence, 30 were abolished, and the others reorganized to save the tax payers annually $800,000. Tennessee has done the same.

Conditions in county governments were brought to the attention of the citizens recently in a book dealing with this problem. A committee of five in Houston reorganized the government at a great saving to the taxpayers. Dallas is saving a million dollars annually through reorganization. The increased cost was not due to graft, but to inefficiency, and over lapping. Best local offices are clerical or executive in nature. Efficiency cannot be chosen in popular elections.

Texas has 254 counties, all doing the same kind of work. There could be a great saving with union of these counties, doing away with costly duplications. Pennsylvania and Oregon have reorganized their police forces through the work of General Butler with a great saving to the taxpayers.

Mr. Condon stated that he was merely pointing out conditions without seeking to present cures.

UNDERGOES OPERATION Mrs. Terry Mayben underwent a major operation in an Amarillo hospital Friday. She is reported to be recovering as rapidly as could be expected.

Miss Dorothy Cash spent Tuesday in Plainview visiting with her sister, Mrs. O. J. Laas.

BUDGET PUBLIC SCHOOL IS CUT FOR NEXT YEAR

SALARIES REDUCED 10% IN MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT.

Budget Reduced 18% Over Expenses of This Year—Carruth Re-Elected for Coming Year.

Operating expenses of the Canyon schools will be reduced 18 per cent for this coming year over the budget of the past year, making a saving of $8,000 for the taxpayers of the district. In a meeting Tuesday night the board of trustees voted to reduce salaries 10 per cent and to effect many other savings which will reduce expenses from $46,000 to $38,000 over the expenditure of this year.

Supt. Irby Carruth was re-elected for the coming year. No action was taken on other members of the faculty at the meeting Tuesday.

Canyon Schools have been most fortunate during the past year. Not a cent has been borrowed, and all operating expenses have been promptly met. All of this is due to the fact that citizens have paid their taxes promptly, and have shown an unusual interest in the welfare of the schools. It is stated that no school district on the plains has fared so well as the Canyon district, due wholly to the interest of the citizens in their schools.

Just how much saving the individual tax payer will profit by the reduced budget is yet to be determined. If renditions of property values do not decline too much, the tax rate may be lowered for the coming year.

Business Men Class Starts Work Public Speaking Monday

The public speaking class for business men started work Monday night at room 311, Education building, under the direction of Prof. C. W. Batchelder. The class will meet again tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the same place. Mr. Batchelder has volunteered to offer the course twice a week so long as the business men are willing to attend. The course is for twelve weeks.

The course offered, states Mr. Batchelder, is to give the fundamentals in public speaking, which are necessary for business men when they appear before audiences. How to feel at ease before an audience, organize a short talk to be made without the use of notes, state mannerisms, and other particulars in appearing before an audience will be studied.

Mr. Batchelder has taught these courses for business men, and knows the problems which confront the average man as he is forced to appear before an audience, and feels that he can greatly aid this class of men.

Dr. Hill Talks on Teachers' Salaries at Assembly Sat.

At the chapel hour Saturday Dr. J. A. Hill spoke to the student body on the organization and work of the State Teachers' Association.

He pointed out that there are more than 43,000 teachers in the state of Texas. Over $40,000,000 is necessary for paying their salaries yet their average annual salary is only $1051.54. "This sum seems exceedingly low," said Dr. Hill, "until you consider that about fifty percent of these teachers do not have college training, and a high per cent of them have not finished high school."

The State Teachers Association organized in 1918 with 25,000 members. Now there are 20,000 regular members and 14,000 life members. The problem before the organization this year is the formulation of a plan which will do business the least injury, but will secure a maximum return on the school taxes. Dr. Hill believes that this is a very vital problem, for the public is demanding that the school taxes be decreased. This would mean a cut in salaries and a subsequent loss of the best class of teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Harris and family left Monday for Morse where they will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. McIntire spent Sunday in Tulsa with Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hutchinson.

Elton Jones of Happy was a Canyon visitor Monday.

GREAT IS TEXAS

Leaving Canyon Sunday morning of last week, the News man arrived in Houston twenty-four hours later. Whereas the ground was blanketed with snow, and the pavement was covered with ice when the train rolled away from the Canyon depot, we found the next morning in Houston and in other towns in that section of the state, beautiful roses, snapdragons and sweet peas blooming in the gardens, together with plenty of young vegetables almost ready for the table for those who had taken the trouble to plant small plots on the sunny side protected from any cold winds from the north.

The weather this winter has been unusually warm all over Texas. Even as far north as Fort Worth there have been only a few frosts. In spite of the large amount of snow on the Plains, old time residents will not recall a winter with so much snow and so little really cold weather. All of this is truly acceptable to those who have not been overflashed with money for heating purposes—this condition including practically all the citizenship.

Politics, depression, general conditions of the past, present and future are the everyday topics of conversation everywhere one goes. Politics is just beginning to get settled down into the six months marathon. The voters will have plenty of use for a poll tax receipt this year, and all over the state, people are being urged to pay their poll taxes in order to vote this summer. More about this a little later.

The depression is visible everywhere. The traveler at once notices that the railroads are suffering perhaps more than any public corporations. Trains which formerly carried from three to four pullmans are now run with only one pullman, which is not one-third occupied at nights. We rode in a pullman from Austin to Brownwood with four berths made up, but only two occupied. Arriving in Houston, only three were on the pullman, with few in the chair car. Long freight trains along the siding are seldom seen. Everyone is wondering what is going to happen next.

Down in Texas little attention will be paid to cotton acreage law, if sentiment continues as at present. It is stated that the big planters as a whole will ignore the new law, but that the little farmers, who were very largely responsible for the passage of the law, are in favor of enforcing the law this year. It is yet undecided as to what steps, if any, will be taken by the state to enforce the law.

One of the most interesting and educational experiences of several years was a visit to the sulphur plants of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company and the Freeport Sulphur Company. Perhaps most people are not so ignorant of sulphur as the writer, but we must confess that after visiting these big industries and talking with other people, we find very few people who realize the immensity of these projects, the methods used in procuring sulphur from Mother Earth, and the hazards of the companies engaged in the business. The fact that some ninety-six percent of all the world's known deposit of sulphur is upon the lands owned by these companies is no guaranty of their happiness of mind, and of their fatness of purse. The business is in the form of a monopoly; nevertheless we are told that other chemicals and minerals are always in direct competition with sulphur. Substitutes from other countries are placed in competition with it, and this condition keeps the business from being an actual monopoly. Therefore, in order to guarantee the sale of sulphur, the price must not rise above a certain level.

No, sulphur is not mined by the pick and shovel route. The writer was astonished to find how little he knew of the methods used. Raising sulphur out of the ground is a highly technical process, which an amateur has little business trying to explain. We are well acquainted here in the Panhandle with the hazards of the oil business, but to our mind the hazards of the sulphur business are much greater. The sulphur deposits are from 800 to 1800 feet underground. The drilling of the wells is as expensive as the drilling of an oil well. After the sulphur deposit is hit, then the real expense of operation starts. In the case of oil, one line of casing is all that is necessary, but with sulphur three sets of casing are placed in the wells. With oil, the gas pressure, or the pump brings the product to the surface, but with sulphur a statement as to what is necessary. We shall attempt to give a brief statement as to what is necessary to build a modern sulphur plant, if you decide you need one.

More machinery is needed to prepare water for the sulphur production than for anything else. 5,000,000 gallons of water are used daily by the Texas Gulf Sulphur company. The water is first pumped from the river or from a 1,000 acre reservoir to the plant where it is purified through chemical processes. Passing through a series of boilers, housed in a building about 100x300 feet, three stories high, this water is heated to 240 degrees. From here it is carried in insulated pipes, 18 inches in diameter to the sulphur wells, two to four miles from the plant. Along side of these conveyors are the pipes carrying compressed air, and others bringing back to the sulphur bins the molten sulphur. This temperature of 240 degrees must be maintained to get the sulphur from the wells.

At the wells, the hot water pours into the casing, which is perforated at the bottom. By means of compressed air, the water is forced out into the sulphur-rock formation, the sulphur dissolved, and being heavier than water it settles back around the bottom of the casing. Through the medium of compressed air, the sulphur is raised from the well, pouring out into steam heated vats where it remains until forced by compressed air back to the plant, where it is run in molten form in the bins. The sulphur is not allowed to cool from the time it is melted in the wells until it reaches the bins. To allow a well to cool would mean its loss, together with several thousand dollars invested. Furthermore, it is practically impossible to remove any of the casing from a well once the sulphur is exhausted.

Those of the readers who as kids were given the regular course of molasses and sulphur every spring would enjoy looking at these huge "bins" of sulphur with the realization that those days are passed, but that there is plenty of sulphur left for other kids who are treated in this way. Looking at the 300,000,000 tons of sulphur in the so-called bins makes one meditate at the number of doses there are in prospect for the kids, and their offspring in coming generations. Fortunately for the kids there are many other uses for sulphur, including the manufacture of acids, bleaching of granulated sugar, making auto casings, and a thousand other things. The sulphur in the bins, when cooled is almost like an iron mountain. Dynamite is necessary to break up the mass. The wet weather does not affect the sulphur as it stands unprotected. It is shipped by car loads, the price ranging from $14 to $18 per ton. Smoking is not allowed around the sulphur plants, as the stuff ignites very easily, and makes a bad fire. In a chemical plant at Freeport, which we visited, the large building is cut in rooms with solid masonry, and iron doors in order to segregate fires when started, and these occur often in spite of all precaution.

The Texas Gulf Sulphur Company owns a model townsite at Newburg. The 650 employees and the members of their families reside here, a colony of about 2,000 people, practically all white, and most of them of high technical training. The company runs no business houses, but will rent business houses to those desiring them. The employees are furnished good homes and the advantage of a community church, good schools, a club house with golf course, a hospital with three doctors, four nurses and a dentist. The company owns 6500 acres of land which is largely in the proven sulphur territory, has built its own railroad and highways. The investment of the company is $20,000,000. It is stated that $13,000,000 were spent before a dollar's return was realized. Thus you see this sulphur business is not a poor man's game, and neither is it one of all profit and no worries.

At Freeport the sulphur deposit is largely exhausted. It is thought that this plant will be able to operate only about 18 months longer. When abandoned, a plant is very poor junk; one costing several millions was sold recently for a few hundred dollars. Propaganda a few years ago put it that the sulphur people refused to allow people upon their premises. Visitors are always welcomed, as these people are anxious for the public to see what they are doing, and to better understand the problems which confront them.

Returning we stopped for a day at Austin. Politics is the order of the day in that city. In fact, politics is the order 365 days of the year, with an extra day for 1932. The Governor has virtually announced in a series of statements that he is a candidate for reelection. It is stated that James E. Ferguson has changed his mind and will not run for congressman-at-large and does not intend to enter Mrs. Ferguson in the campaign for Governor. Senator Clint

Small and Lieut. Governor Edgar Witt are spoken of as the most likely candidates against Governor Sterling, and some statements are expected from either or both during this week.

Probably the hottest fight brewing outside the Governor's race is for Railroad Commissioner. C. V. Terrell, chairman, is out for reelection. Three or four candidates are opposing him. Terrell and Lon Smith are pitted against Pat Neff, the other member, and rumor has it that Neff with four years yet to serve will have some remarks to make during the campaign which may do a lot toward unseating Terrell. Smith has two years yet to serve. The lack of harmony has not helped this commission dispense business.

Attorney General Jimmie Allred has his hands full with the ouster suits against the oil companies and will seek re-election for the purpose of completing these suits. Supt. S. M. N. Marrs is out for reelection. He escaped opposition two years ago, but an effort will be made to get out a strong man against him this year.

Great interest is being manifested in the West Texas candidates for congressman-at-large. The South Plains is entitled to a new congressman at such time as a redistricting bill is passed. Senator Pink Parrish tells the writer he will run for congressman-at-large, hoping to be continued in office when re-districting takes place. Great interest is shown in the announcement of Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude, and the statement that Col. Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo would be a candidate. About twenty candidates are expected for this office, the three highest in the first primary will be the winners.

If West Texas will stay with the candidates from this section, we shall win some of the places.

More than 100 school districts in Texas have defaulted in payment of their interest this year. A State Senator states he has the bonds of a small town which had defaulted on its waterworks bonds. This leads up to the question of taxation. A large part of the high taxes, of which we all complain, is due to the fact that during the prosperous times every town, city, county and school district voted bonds for public improvements, which must be paid off. To default on the interest payments means that receivership will result. Taxes cannot therefore be lowered to any great extent until these bonds have been paid off.

Every time we go "down into Texas" we come back prouder that we live on the Plains. With all of the greatness of Texas, and the great diversity of conditions found in Texas, the best part we have ever found is the Plains of West Texas. It pays to go away from home once in a while, just to find out how much you think of the old home town, and how well it stacks up with the rest of the state.

Deep Fat Frying Easy, Says Expert

"The art of deep fat frying can easily be acquired," says Inez S. Willson, home economist. When foods are carefully fried in deep fat, they show almost no signs of being near the frying kettle, they absorb no more fat than if they had been panfried and sometimes even less. This is because the fat is hot enough that a crust is formed so quickly that the fat does not have time to penetrate into the food.

Deep fat frying is a very effective way of disguising bits of left-over meats and vegetables. Practically any meat or combinations of meats may be used in making croquettes. Here is a recipe for beef croquettes which also may be used for other meats that you happen to have.

Beef Croquettes

Chop 1½ cups beef into small dice and remove any fat, skin or gristle. Simmer over a slow fire in a little melted butter until the butter is absorbed, and then mix with white sauce until thoroughly moistened. Season with salt and pepper and a little onion juice. Turn onto a buttered dish to cool. Diced potatoes may be added if desired. Divide the mixture into balls about the size of an egg, flatten into cutlet shape, roll in cracker crumbs, beaten egg, and then in fine bread crumbs, and fry to a crisp golden brown in hot deep fat. These may be served with tomato sauce.

Debating May Soon Be Thing of Past, Says Batchelder

When the Debate Club, under the direction of C. Wesley Batchelder, met for the first time this year Monday afternoon, January 11, only nine students turned out, and of these only two had had previous experience in inter-collegiate debate. According to Mr. Batchelder, this number is not sufficient to warrant the continuation of the club, and unless more turn out there will be no debating in W. T. this year. He points out that if debate is dropped this year, it will probably never be resumed, but he feels certain that there is debating talent, however dormant, in the College.

A special appeal is being made to students to come out for debate, both because of the opportunities it presents to the student and because the service that may be rendered to the school. Debate has been a prominent student activity ever since the College was founded, and as late as last year it showed no signs of dying out. Last year eight students were selected out of a fairly large field to compose the four teams. Those who make the team are given three term hours of credit, and those who go out but do not make the team are given student activity points, which count toward positions on the honor roll. Plans have been made to award medals to members of the team this year.

It would be especially unfortunate if debate were allowed to die out at this time because plans are being made to join Pi Kappa Delta, a national forensic society. In fact, the subjects selected by this organization were to have been used this year.

The Debating Club meets every Monday afternoon at 4:30 in room 207, and Mr. Batchelder urges all students who are interested to come out.

COMING THROUGH

With dependable constant day in and day out service during a series of cold waves is no easy task.

Our distribution system must be an elastic one. It must expand to serve the heavy peak demands of winter's cold waves. And the same system must contract to absorb the slack demands of summer's warm weather.

We believe we are "coming through" with such a service.

Football Squads of '31 are Honored at Banquet Tues.

W. T.'s football teams of 1931 were honored with a banquet given at the College Cafeteria Tuesday evening, January 12, at 6:30, with Dr. J. A. Hill as toastmaster.

A series of talks gave spice to the banquet, the first one to speak being Coach Sam D. Burton, who gave the Buffalo schedule for 1932 and discussed the prospects of next season's team. Mitchell Jones, coach of the freshman team, told what the freshman team has accomplished this season, and made some interesting prophecies as to what the freshmen will do on the varsity squad next season.

There were inspirational talks by Dr. M. L. Saddoris, Dr. H. A. Brown, and W. C. Black, who was formerly a football player for W. T. Captain-elect Bill McClendon spoke on football in '32. Leo Cooper, Robert Clark, and Lloyd Devin, who will receive their degrees in June, made short talks. Other speakers were T. B. McCarter, Travis Shaw, and D. A. Shirley.

Varsity, Freshman Squads Present

Frank McInnis, L. A. Stowe, Cyril Layne, Glen Daugherty, Alfred Duncan, Clayton Devin, D. J. Phillips, Winfred Fowler, and L. J. Harris; and the freshman squad: Captain George Ray Colvin, Alvin Morgan, Ronald Davis, John Walker, G. T. Moore, Jr., John Blaine, Jim Cabe, and Fred Biffle.

Ex-Buffs Capture First Honors in Cage Tournament

Battling their way successfully through five games, a squad of former West Texas Buffaloes Saturday night captured the first annual Clements-Young independent basketball tournament, held in Amarillo the past week-end.

The Ex-Buffs came in to defeat Lakeview in the final game, 26 to 18, receiving in return a large silver basketball trophy, the title prize. Lakeview received a smaller trophy.

While easily the better passing club and more consistent offensive machine, the Ex-Buffs went thru their schedule exerting little in advancing to the title play. The game was marked by no particular enthusiasm on the part of either team. Those Ex-Buffs who comprised the winning team included Alex Hale, Taho Lowes, Ben Pearson, Pat Gerald, Davis Hill, Landon Donnell, and Cleatice Crump.

New Styles Feature Convertible Suits

A DRESS WHICH IS A SUIT WHEN IT IS UNBUTTONED AND WORN WITH BLOUSE, IS MAKING A DECIDED HIT

BY HARRIET

EVERYWHERE you look today, new styles play up the convertible costume.

It promises to be a great spring for little suits so if you are thinking of purchasing materials to make yourself something smart, or, if you are thinking of purchasing something smart that is ready-made, bear some of these new fashion notes in mind.

1. The lightweight wool or silk suit that makes the big hit is the one that can be used both as a dress, when buttoned up, or as a suit, when left open and a blouse worn underneath.

2. The popular neck arrangements are those that can be worn a couple of ways. Left open, they look rather soft and dressy. Buttoned up, they take on a chic tailored look.

3. Unlined coats for suits naturally are in order, so that they can be worn as dresses, if you want them that way.

4. Street skirts are shorter, if anything. Certainly the skirt that goes lower than just-below-the-calf is much too long for street or office wear this spring.

5. Top coats may be about anything you like. Some of the outstanding style points repeated in many different lines show nice yoke effects, often with the sleeves part of the shoulder yoke; buttons for decoration in matching tone and lovely shapes and composition; no collars though the neckline is made so it can be worn open or buttoned clear up to that close line everybody seems to like; medium colors instead of too dark or too light.

ONE of the many smart things concocted for Palm Beach that will see everybody through many chic occasions this spring, is a sports suit of sheer basket weave wool. It has a trimly-divided skirt that doesn't look divided. It can be worn alike by tennis or golf players, by demure working girls, or by prom-fessionals. The coat has the new neck that makes lapels or can be fastened right to the throat in a straight line. The sleeves have nice work on them, with deep cuffs that make it dressy.

At left is shown a Palm Beach white sports suit of sheer basket weave wool, worn with an Irish lace yoke blouse and a gay sports turban, to comprise a perfect sports costume. Button up the coat, add a soft wool top coat and felt turban of bright new blue, and you have the smart costume for daily wear shown at right.

Under this is worn an Irish lace yoke blouse, with hand knitting below it. A sports turban in gay color, with fitting sports shoes and you are all set for any gala outdoor event, should you go south. The same costume, done in color and not white, would be useful right now or later.

Button up the coat, put a little vestee in it, and you have a neat coat dress. Top it with a soft wool coat in a bright new blue and add a felt turban of the same blue, and you have a complete smart costume for daily wear.

Graduate Club Is Organized Here; Gilmore Is Prexy

Students working on their Masters' degrees organized a Graduate Club Friday morning for the purpose of promoting social contacts among the graduate students and discussing leading educational movements of the day. Lee Gilmore, of Turkey, was elected president of the club and Dean R. P. Jarrett was chosen faculty advisor.

Other officers elected were as follows: Malcolm Hunt, vice president; Theresa Robinson, secretary; and Mabel Rowan, treasurer.

The members of the club plan to divide their attention between discussion and social meetings. Once a week the club will meet to study and discuss the leading educational movements of the day which concern the college graduate. Twice a month there will be a social meeting at which one member of the club entertains the group by his hobby, according to a plan being worked out by Mrs. Jessie Wallrabenstein, chairman of the social committee. The group plans to attend jointly special out of town entertainments.

A committee is working on the constitution and by-laws of this organization. It has not yet been determined who will be eligible for membership. The charter members are as follows: Lee Gilmore, Newton Crain, James Gray, Mabel Rowan, Jonnie Rowan, Jessie Wallrabenstein, Malcolm Hunt, Albessa Stephenson, C. R. DeArmond, Theresa Robinson, and Lenna Foster.

Training School for S. S. Teachers Gets Flying Start

Last Wednesday evening, January 13 at 7:00 at the Christian Church, the Leadership Training School opened. Its purpose is the training of Sunday school teachers. The nine classes offered now have an enrollment of one hundred and ten; these students include town people and college students. The nine classes include a new class for adults, known as Adult Life, in charge of W. L. Vaughn of the Training School history department.

Approval of the Leadership Training School has been offered by the International Council of Religious Education, whose headquarters are in Chicago, Ill. Practically all Protestant denominations cooperate in establishing such schools. When a student earns credit from this council, he is also entitled to credit with his own denomination to instruct in the departments of the Sunday schools. Twelve credits entitle a student to a diploma.

Since the opening night was mainly for organization, one may yet enroll and receive credit by attending every meeting dating from Wednesday, January 20, to the end of the term; and the cost is nominal. These meetings are held each Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the Christian Church under the directorship of S. H. Condon. Most of the churches of this town are cooperating in making this school successful and permanent.

Magazine Cover Suggestion Wins Award for Lowes

Miss Ruth Lowes, kindergarten teacher of the Demonstration School, has recently been awarded for her ingenuity. Jessie Wilcox Smith, who draws the cover pages of the Good Housekeeping magazine, is conducting a contest for original ideas. Miss Lowes sent in a suggestion which was deemed sufficiently good by Miss Smith to be drawn.

Miss Lowes' idea of children and airplanes, combined with a suggestion sent in by someone else, is to appear on the May issue of the Good Housekeeping. Besides the honor, a prize is given for every idea that is used; so Miss Lowes is doubly rewarded.

Eagles Lose To Powerful Sandies And Westerners

The Eagles were not so successful in the games Thursday and Friday as they hoped, losing to Lubbock 29 to 26, and dropping to Amarillo the following night by the score of 42-21.

The Westerners had tough going to defeat the Eagles. All during the game one team was ahead only to drop behind the other. And fortunately for Lubbock, the game ended while they were ahead.

Pearson and Harden played their usual good game for Canyon. During the first half Pearson scored 6 points, 2 more than the entire Lubbock squad. Free shots by Harden and Cone had the Canyon score just twice the Lubbock end at the half. In the second half Harden scored 11 points and Pearson added five more. Ellison, center for Wright, looped one to total 26 for the Eagles.

Quinton, midget forward for Lubbock played well, and showed marvelous dribbling form, but the defensive playing of Tyson Cox kept his total to four. Brown, the other forward, did the scoring for Lubbock. In the first half he made 1 point, but in the remainder of the game, he ran wild to score 20 points, which made him the high point man.

The Eagles had to meet the Sandies, possibly their strongest opponent of the year, the following night.

Harden and Pearson duplicated their playing of the night before, scoring 8 and 11 points, respectively. Cone and Cox made the other points.

Nard Cazell, Sandie forward, 6 points in the first half. Fennimore, in for Cazell, scored 10 points in the last half. Snodgrass, other forward, was high point man with 15 points to his credit. LaBarge succeeded in scoring one point in the first half. Corbett, right guard, made up the other two points for the Sandies' total of 42.

Records Show Low Per Cent Term Failures

According to the office records, the per cent of failures for the first semester in Canyon High is much lower than was expected.

Only 6.8 per cent of the semester grades turned in were E's and F's. It is hardly possible that the E's can be made up now, but Mr. McDonald, principal, states that a number of E's may be raised by extra work.

The per cent of failures for the last semester is expected to be even lower than that of the first half.

Canyon Eagles Will Play In Amarillo Tilts

The Eagles will participate in the tournament at Amarillo on January 22 and 23. The officials at Amarillo expect sixteen of the most important teams of this part of the Panhandle to enter. Monday ten teams had entered. Besides teams of the Panhandle, a few fine quintets from New Mexico have entered. Among the teams entered are the Dalhart Wolves, district champion of the past year, and the Sandies, winners of this tournament last year. This is the first of several large tournaments to be held this year, and probably one of the biggest.

The Eagles have been rather unlucky this year but they hope to regain a few of their honors at this tournament.

PUPILS WILL GIVE RECITAL

"I've been CHASING YOU 12 miles...."

to tell You
You've Lost Your Oil"

Two cars raced along the highway east of Abilene, Texas. The second driver finally overtook the leader and signaled to stop.

"I've been chasing you twelve miles to tell you you've lost your oil," he called to J. W. Bell. Mr. Bell found that a leak in the road had knocked a hole in the crankcase, allowing the Conoco Germ Processed Oil to drain out.

But examination of the motor showed no damage done. The "Hidden Quart" had protected the motor!

Only Conoco Germ Processed Oil offers the extra protection of the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away. Only Germ Processed Oil actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces.

You need that extra protection during the starting period, when almost half your motor wear occurs. Oils not Germ Processed drain away, leaving parts unprotected. Germ Processed Oil stays on the job to cut down starting wear, giving your motor longer life, with fewer repair bills. It is the safest, surest lubrication you can buy.

Change to Germ Processed Oil now at the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle.

We neither encourage "dry crankcase" experiments nor guarantee success under all conditions. But unsolicited letters from motorists, now in our files, tell of this and hundreds of other runs with empty crankcases but without damage.

Harter Hens

from 5 different strains. Into his own strain of birds he has blood from hens producing 331 eggs, 347 eggs and 353 eggs per year.

Accurate production records have been kept by a method of carefully planned trap nesting. Added to this record of production for each hen, Mr. Harter weighs and measures every egg. In this way he has an exact record of every hen's production. His entire flock has been TB tested, blood tested for BWD and is APA certified.

Mr. Harter does pedigree breeding. Hens which do not reach a certain standard in production are discarded and only pullets from those hens which hold high production records are kept. The same is true when male birds are selected. Only those birds from high producing hens are retained for future use. Pullets and hens are culled for broodiness. Australorps are known as a non-broody breed and those which show a tendency to go broody are not kept in the breeding flock.

This method of line breeding eliminates most of the chance work in developing a high producing strain.

The highest production of a single hen in the Harter flock has a record of 303 eggs in a year. Last year his entire flock of 110 hens averaged a production of 250 eggs each for the year.

Last but not least, Harter claims that type and size are very important factors in the breeding flock. As evidence that he has the correct type in his birds might be cited the fact that he has won a major portion of the prizes offered in this breed at local and state poultry shows for the past two years.

Australorps are making a place for themselves in egg production contests all over the country. Honors for high egg production in these contests in past years have always been held by the lighter weight breeds.

This is the first year that any of the chickens from the Harter flock have been entered in egg-laying contests. This year he has 4 pens (52 birds) entered in the three state contests, two of which are recognized as national standard contests.

So far these pens have been showing wonderful progress. Two pens are in the Fifteenth Texas National Egg Laying contest at College Station, Texas. In this contest the Harter Black Australorps are holding high honors in all breeds having the highest percentage to date in both points and eggs. He had the two highest pens for the month of December. Also five of the ten highest hens for the month in the entire contest consisting of 38 pens from 11 states entered by 31 breeders.

In a summary of the Texas contest published at College Station for the month of December, the following was said of the Harter entries:

"R. E. Harter's two pens of Australorps from Canyon, Texas, came through with flying colors to lead the entire contest. Pen No. 6 finished first with 263 eggs valued at 261.85 points, while pen No. 5 came in a close second with 260 eggs valued at 255.55 points. The England farm Leghorn entry was third for the month, followed by the Golden Rule Barred Rocks.

"R. E. Harter's Australorps monopolized the ten high hen table by having the two high hens and three others. Two of these birds produced 31 eggs each. This is the second time in the history of the contest that there has ever been a hen to turn in a perfect score in December. Congratulations to Mr. Harter.

"The two pens of Harter Australorps are laying at a fast pace. The percentage production of these two pens for December was 84.4 per cent. This is also the leading breed to date with 604 eggs per bird."

A third pen is in the Oklahoma National Egg Laying contest and a fourth in the Colorado contest. Incidentally the Harter pen No. 6 at College Station in the Texas Contest is the highest pen of Australorps in the United States. There are 1,170 Australorps in contests over the nation.

"The Crazy Quilt" Will Show January 28th in Amarillo

Fannie Brice, Phil Baker, and Ted Healy in Billy Rose's "Crazy Quilt" will be the attraction at the City Auditorium, at Amarillo, for one night, Thursday, January 28th. This is by far the biggest attraction ever booked in Amarillo or the Southwest, according to Wilbur C. Hawk, the sponsor.

The attraction is the most important booking of the theatrical season. Not only are here assembled three of the outstanding personalities of the stage, screen and radio, but the show itself comes with the prestige of a long run at the Forty-fourth Street Theatre, New York City, and more recently a protracted and solvent stay at the Apollo theatre, Chicago.

The biggest aggregation numbering well over 100 persons comes with both personnel and production intact. Both New York and Chicago reviewers are of one mind in declaring that never before have the three favorite fun-makers been provided with a vehicle so happy in opportunity for their drooleries.

"El Bolero", a sensational dance creation, said to have had its inception in the Moorish harems that abounded in Andalusia before Ferdinand and Isabella chased the Saracens from Spain, will be performed by the celebrated terpsichorean duo, Gomez & Winona.

Not the least of "Crazy Quilt's" claim to fame is the revelation of three score young women in vestments described by an ecstatic scribe as "making Mahatma Gandhi look like an eskimo."

The price range is from $1.00 to $3.85, which includes war tax. The company comes to Amarillo in a special train over the Rock Island from Oklahoma City and returns to Dallas the same way. Order your tickets now and secure choice seats.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Rockwell left Wednesday for Miami to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Hair, a girlhood chum of Mrs. Rockwell. Mrs. Hair died Tuesday at Port Arthur.
